2. Government Order No. P. 6584-5—Pol. 119-35-3, dated the 24th May 1937, sanctioning the grant of an increment of Re. 1 to all the constables who were in receipt of a pay of Rs. 15 for a period of 7 years.

4. Correspondence ending with letter No. A. C. 282—38-39, dated 15th March 1939, from the Inspector-General of Police, forwarding for sanction, proposals for the introduction of the incremental scale of pay for the Regular Police Constables.

ORDER NO. P. 6481-90—POL. 42-38-5, DATED BANGALORE, THE 16TH JUNE 1939.

With a view to improve the efficiency of the Police Force and secure a better class of recruits, the basic pay of the constables was raised from Rs. 13 to Rs. 15 in 1932. Subsequently in 1937 Government sanctioned the grant of an increment of Re. 1 to all constables who had drawn a pay of Rs. 15 for seven years. The Inspector-General of Police reports that these measures have had a very beneficial effect in improving the morale of the constabulary and minimising illiteracy in the Force by the enlistment of a better class of recruits.

2. In order to prevent the stagnation of the constables of the regular Police Force on the same pay for a number of years, the Inspector-General of Police recommends that their pay be further raised to Rs. 17 after an approved service of 13 years and to Rs. 18 after a service of 20 years. The proposal of the Inspector-General of Police does not involve extra cost to Government till 1941-42 and the extra cost thereafter is estimated to range from Rs. 13,681 in 1942-43 to Rs. 63,055 in 1951-52.

3. Government consider that the proposals of the Inspector-General of Police afford an assured future to the constabulary and are accordingly pleased to sanction the same as detailed in the margin.

1. Rs. 17 after 13 years' service.
2. Rs. 18 after 20 years' service.

4. The case for the constables of the Provincial Reserve Police has already been dealt with in the order of 2nd April 1938, and the present order does not therefore apply to them.

B. T. KESAVIENGAR,
Chief Secretary to Government.
